Front Cover—New Coach Bob Ward, Maryland '52.

Bob isn't the first ex-Maryland star to return to his alma mater as head football coach, but he was Maryland's first all-America, having attained that pinnacle of football fame both as a junior and senior guard in 1950 and 1951 when he weighed 185. That, incidentally, is his weight today.

MEMO TO THE PRESS AND RADIO-TV BROADCASTERS

You'll only be visiting Byrd Stadium for four home games this fall, but we want you to know you are welcome to our office any time and we look forward to seeing you each Tuesday at our weekly press conference at the University's adult education center just a half-mile west of the stadium.

Luncheons start at noon and you should be on your way by 1:30 o'clock.

Probably the best news for you is that freshly-sodded Byrd Stadium has a new, up-to-date clock with the playing time remaining being shown by the count-down in lighted figures rather than the old, difficult-to-deciper sweep hands.

Requests for working space in the Byrd Stadium press box and photographers' credentials should be made to the undersigned. Tickets will be distributed the first of the week of each game. Orders received too late for mailing will be held at Booth No. 6 (to the right of the stadium's main entrance). Wire and telephone requirements should be handled through your local Western Union office.

A radio booth is reserved for the visiting team's official station and located on the lower level of the press box, to the right as you enter.

Scouts of the next immediate opponent of each team are assigned seats in the upper (working) press box; all other scouts are given seats in the lower box.

Parking permits are assigned to those covering the game. They permit parking in Z Lot, immediately in front of the main entrance and the area adjacent to the Cole Field House.

The site of Coach Ward's post-game interviews will be announced later, as renovations were being made in the stadium's dressing rooms as this book went to press. The visiting coach will be available in the vicinity of his team's dressing room. For those writing on deadlines, a transcript of their remarks will be typed and distributed in the press box.

This office will mail out current stats each Sunday. It also has an ample supply of photographs of Maryland's top players. Please do not hesitate to call us for any assistance we might offer.

THE UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

The University of Maryland has a rich and proud history and a dynamic future.

Three decades after the Declaration of Independence was signed a College of Medicine was established in Baltimore, the fifth such school in the United States. The first seven students enrolled received their lectures in the homes of their professors.

In 1812, the State Legislature authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to appoint and annex to itself three other colleges and facilities — Divinity, Law and Arts and Sciences. These four colleges became known as the University of Maryland. In the years that followed the departments of Dentistry and Pharmacy as well as the Training School for Nurses was created within the College of Medicine.

Meanwhile on the old Rossborough Estate, 30 miles south of Baltimore near Washington, D.C., another institution, the Maryland Agricultural College was developing.

In 1856, as a result of interest generated by a group of farsighted Maryland farmers, the State legislature passed an act to establish and endow an agricultural college, making it the second such institution established in the Western Hemisphere. In 1862 the college became a land-grant institution under the act of the United States Congress.

In 1920 the State Legislature passed an act which merged the University of Maryland (Baltimore) with the Maryland State College of Agriculture (College Park). It was given the name University of Maryland.

To meet the growing demands of higher education both the Baltimore and College Park campuses grew in size and diversity.

Last year another dimension in the University's continuing effort to meet the needs of the State was added — the University of Maryland's Baltimore County Campus.

Approximately 750 freshmen students enrolled in courses on the new 445-acre campus located near Catonsville.

A recent study forecasted that the new branch campus will reach the size of its College Park counterpart in 20 years.

Broadly, the University's program seeks to attain its objective through three main avenues of endeavor. First, through the educational programs at home and abroad; second, through research activities in College Park and in Baltimore and through agricultural programs in various sections of the State; and third, through service to farm groups, commerce and industry.

The University makes available more than 2,000 courses of instruction, ranging through the entire field of human knowledge. More than 1,500 courses are offered at College Park. Courses are offered, through University College, in 178 centers overseas and 60 centers stateside and are based on those offered at College Park.

The instructional program is carried on through 57 separate departments in the nine basic colleges at College Park and through 48 departments in the six professional schools in Baltimore. The graduate school offers advanced degrees in 54 disciplines. The Department of Air Science conducts a voluntary four-year curriculum leading to a commission in the Air Force.

The University offers fourteen different categories of degrees ranging from the B.A. and B.S. to Ph.D.

As President Wilson H. Elkins has pointed out, the University's chief product is its graduates, Maryland educated men and women who contribute to the professional life of their State and nation.

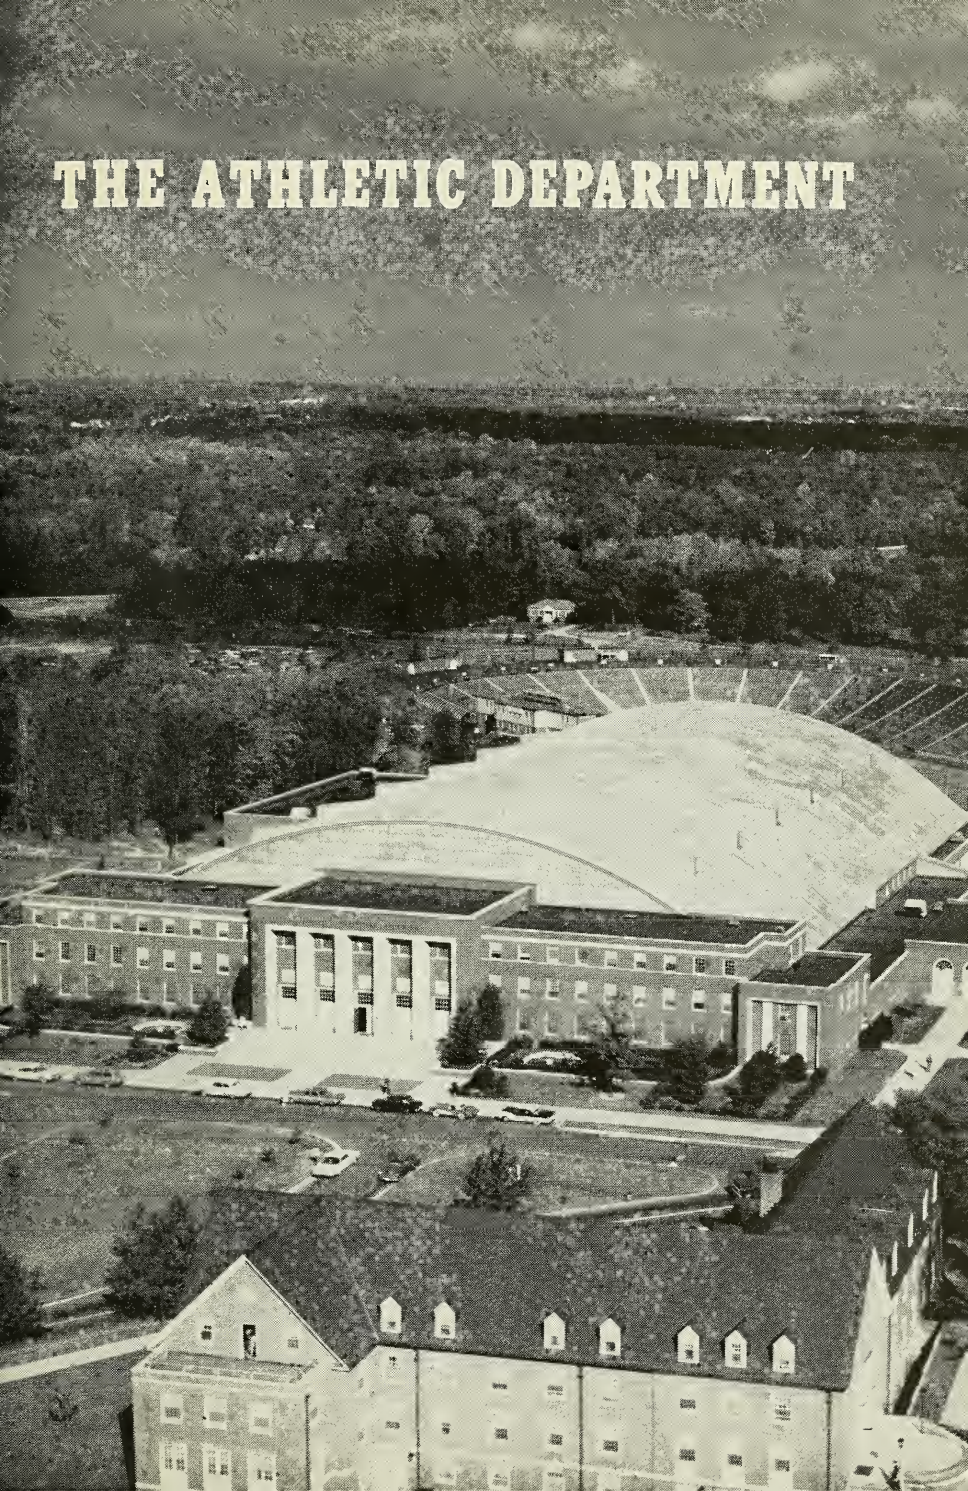
THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT



"My entire career has been directed toward the goal of becoming a head football coach . . . it has always been my hope to some day return to Maryland as the head coach".

With those words Bob Ward, Maryland's first all-America (in 1950), formally accepted his appointment as Maryland's football coach at a press conference in the Trophy Room of Cole Field House last December 30.

This is Ward's first head coaching job, but the preparation he has had for such a position has been thorough. He has been an assistant under two of the greatest college coaches of the century: the late Jim Tatum here at Maryland and Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma. In addition he has been an assistant coach at Iowa State and Army. He was given much of the credit for developing the cadets' great defensive line last year which yielded only four touchdowns in eight of their 10 games.

These positions followed a brilliant career as a college player here at College Park where he twice was chosen an all-America guard — at 185 pounds! That weight earned him Tatum's accolade as "the greatest little player, ounce for ounce. I've ever seen". He captained every team he ever played on, from high school through the 1952 College All-Stars.

Ward played four years of varsity football at Maryland during the immediate post-World War II period when freshmen were eligible to play varsity sports. He had been an Army paratrooper before enrolling at Maryland in 1948.

As a sophomore, in 1949, he was the "lineman of the year" of the Southern Conference in which Maryland was a member prior to the formation of the Atlantic Coast Conference. And in the 1950 Gator Bowl in Jacksonville he was named the most valuable player as he and his Terp teammates whipped Missouri, 20-7.

The following year, as a defensive guard, he made the All-America teams of LOOK, NEA, COLLIER'S and HELMS ATHLETIC FOUNDATION, and the second all-Americas of the UPI and INS. His playing time averaged 50 minutes a game and he often was referred to as "the fifth man in the opponent's backfield". His junior year was climaxed when the Washington Touchdown Club selected him as the outstanding college player of the area.

As co-captain during his senior year Bob played offensive guard and occasionally saw service with the defensive unit. He not only was a unanimous all-America choice but the outstanding lineman of the country. Following a particularly brilliant performance against Georgia, when he played with a broken hand, he was named the country's "lineman of the week".

Maryland capped its 10-0 season with a 28-13 conquest of Tennessee in the 1952 Sugar Bowl. That year the Washington Touchdown Club named him "Lineman of the Year". The following August he captained the College All-Stars in Chicago's Soldier Field against the Los Angles Rams.

His jersey number — 28 — is the only number that has ever been retired by Maryland officials.

That he didn't restrict his extracurricula campus activities to football is seen by his ascendancy to the vice presidency of the Maryland Student Government Association, his election to Omicron Delta Kappa (honorary leadership fraternity) and membership in Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. He also was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Bob is married to the former Ellen Zalesak of Union, N.J., and they have a fine family of four: Jim, 16; Kathie, 15; Bob, jr., 14, and Kelly, 10.

His former positions, in chronological order:

1952-55 Maryland's offensive line coach in regular season play; under Coach Jim Tatum. Two of the four teams were undefeated; two were Orange Bowl teams.

1956 First assistant at Maryland under Coach Tommy Mont.

1957-58 Line coach at Iowa State, '58 team known as "The Dirty Thirty" . . . only two of squad weighed more than 200.

1959-62 Assistant coach at Oklahoma under Bud Wilkinson.

1963-65 First assistant at Iowa State under Coach Clay Stapleton.

1966 Assistant coach, U.S. Military Academy. In charge of defense.

1967 HOME — at MARYLAND!

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

TOM STEIGLEDER, the offensive coordinator who served in that capacity for two years at Iowa State (one year with head coach Ward) whence he came to Maryland. One of the outstanding junior college coaches in the southwest for 10 years during which he compiled an 81-21-6 record, including six bowl games for his Arkansas City and Henderson teams. Many of his junior college players developed into outstanding college stars.

A very analytical-minded coach, "Steeg" was an Oklahoma high school coach for five years before joining the college ranks. He played his college football at Oklahoma Central, quarterbacking his way to four letters.

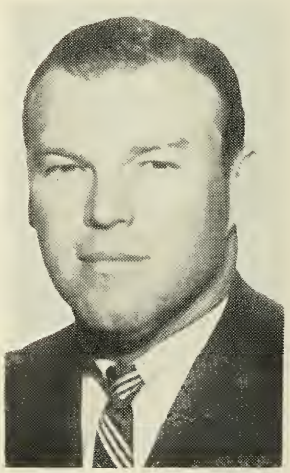
In charge of the offense at Iowa State, Steigleder had the satisfaction of seeing the Cyclones lead the Big Eight conference in passing both of his years there. One year his quarterback set a conference passing record, while an end set a league mark for pass-receiving.

Thirty-eight years old, "Steeg" is married to the former Barbara Smith. They have a son and a daughter — Terri, 15, and Smith, 7.

RALPH HAWKINS, the defensive coordinator who is an area native and who played quarterback and halfback on Maryland teams of the mid-50s when head coach Ward was an assistant under the late Jim Tatum and Tommy Mont. Became head coach at nearby Bishop Dennis O'Connell High in 1958 and subsequently an assistant at Maryland, Southern Methodist, Kentucky and Army. Most of his ideas on defensive coaching were formulated under head coach Charley Bradshaw at Kentucky where he served five years.

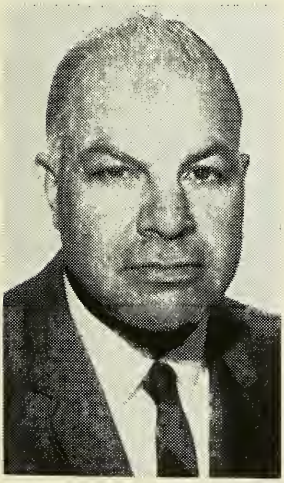
Last year, at West Point where he served with Ward, he shared honors with Maryland's new head coach for helping Army develop what critics called "Cahill's miracle team".

Thirty-one, Hawkins was born in Washington, D.C.'s "Foggy Bottom" district, now the site of the Kennedy Fine Arts Center, and played his high school football at St. John's. He was married last January to the former Carol Ann Hench.



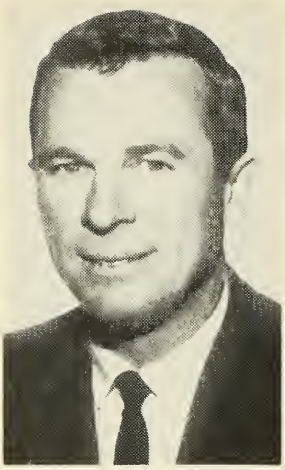
ERNIE JORGE, who will handle the offensive line, is a native of California where he coached after playing at St. Mary's. He has probably the broadest experience in coaching of any of the staff. After participating in three sports — football, baseball and track — at St. Mary's where he captained the grid team in 1937 and received the most loyal player award, Ernie started his coaching career at Modesto (Calif.) High, leading it to three championships during his six years there. He spent the next six years at the College (now University) of the Pacific, the last two as head coach. He twice led the Tigers into the Sun Bowl before accepting an assistant's job with the old Chicago Cardinals of the NFL. After two years with the pros, Jorge joined the Naval Academy's staff at Annapolis and served there 12 years including the 1966 season. He and the late Eddie Erdelatz were the closest of friends. While serving with the middies, Navy defeated Army six times in the 12 games played. Two were tied.

Ernie is married to the former Dorothy Lucas and they have a grown daughter, Mrs. Joanne Wilkins. But don't let his 53 years fool you! He can still get out there and mix it with his students 35 years younger.



DIM MONTERO, Ward's administrative assistant and freshman coach. Here is a man who had a very successful career as a high school coach with four undefeated seasons at Salesianum (Del.), marked by winning streaks of 29 and 22 straight victories. Dim not only can coach with the best but has a genuine understanding of young men just out of high school. His closest friends will tell you his qualities run deep and that he shows that football is not all blocking and tackling. Yet he is an excellent technician, and his coaching technique earned him honors as national Catholic coach-of-the-year in 1954. Twelve years later he was Delaware's coach-of-the-year. Last season, his first out of coaching in 20 years, he taught American history at Salesianum.

Before turning to high school ranks, Dim had been head coach at Washington College, King College and an assistant at VMI. He is a graduate of LaSalle ('46) and married to the former Dottiejean Klein. They have three children: Dennis, 17; Dianne, 14, and Denise, 12.



HOWARD JUSTICE, who will coach the defensive ends and linebackers, is the second assistant with whom head coach Ward served at Iowa State. Prior to his tenure there, Justice had been one of the most outstanding high school coaches in Iowa—at Fontanelle, Exira, Estherville and Atlantic. His overall record for those years was 76-26-6.

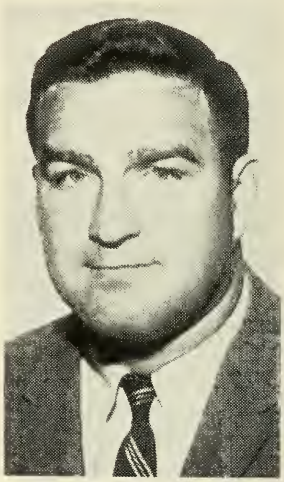
A graduate of Simpson with AB and MS degrees, Howard played both football and baseball for his alma mater.

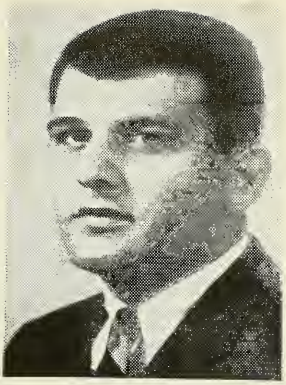
Thirty-six years old, he is married to the former Norma Stegeman. They have three children: Vicki, 14; Steve, 11, and Craig, 6.

FRED KERN, the third Maryland alumnus of the coaching staff who, like Coach Montero, had an impressive record as high school coach. During the four years, 1963-'66, Kern led Calvert Hall of Baltimore to a 29-9-1 record. Last year his team shared the city championship with Baltimore City College, his own high school in scholastic years.

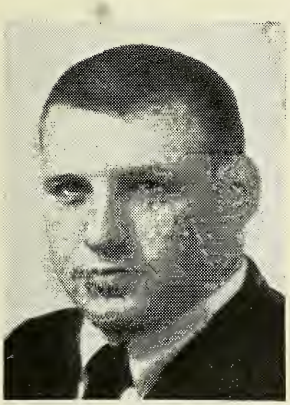
He was an all-state football selection while in high school and played both football and lacrosse here at Maryland. His play in the latter sport earned him honorable mention for the all-America squad of 1959.

Thirty-one, Kern is married to the former Pat Stretmater, also a Maryland graduate. They have four children: Fred, 7; Kathy, 6; Joanne, 3, and Mary Pat, 2.





FRED D'ORAZIO, a fine defensive back with George Washington in the early '60s who coached and served as a PE instructor at Bishop O'Connell High after graduating in June 1966. Twenty-four years old, Fred is a native of Jeanette, Pa. and recently married a former GW coed, Emily Mintz.



"CHUCK" STEIMLE, a guard at Iowa State from 1961-63, playing under Coach Ward his senior year . . . Played a year of pro ball with Montreal in the Canadian League before returning to coach the freshmen at Iowa State in 1965. Last year worked with the Recreation Department of Columbus, Ohio. Calls Peoria, Ill. his home, is 24 and single.

JOE BRANZELL, a well-known figure in area athletics for years, having coached Washington Boys' Club teams for a quarter century before becoming affiliated with the Washington Baseball Senators as their territorial scouting supervisor. The championships his various teams have won approach 100. He won four national baseball championships as coach of Washington's Federal Storage team (in 1947, 1956, 1960 and 1962) and two football championships in one year, 1956. That season he coached the Boys' Club of Washington All-Stars to victory in a bowl game at Lakeland, Fla., and followed that with a national midget football title in a Pop Warner Foundation game.

Joe will serve as Maryland's chief personnel scout and recruiter.

THE TRAINERS

HEAD TRAINER WILLIAM "SPIDER" FRY, a University graduate and former assistant trainer here, returns to his alma mater after five years as head trainer at Dartmouth. He replaced Alfred J. "Duke" Wyre who, after 18 years as Maryland's head trainer, moved up as an assistant in the athletic department.

"Spider" took his B.S. degree from Maryland in 1951. During his undergraduate days here he played on the Terps' perennially successful soccer team. Although born in Norristown, Pa., Fry attended high school in Elkton, Md. He is a member of the National Athletic Trainer' Association and past secretary of District III of that group.

He is married to the former Sandy Van Fossen and they had their first child in August. Mrs. Fry is a graduate of Penn State.

Under his supervision, Maryland's training room has been completely renovated and modernized and now ranks with one of the best in the country.

ASSISTANT TRAINER KENNETH METTLER, like Fry, is a Maryland product, having taken his B.S. degree here in 1965. He also had been an assistant trainer and head student trainer here before becoming head trainer at Lehigh in 1965.

Kenny is one of those rare specimens, a native of Washington, D.C., although he attended Northwestern High School, within a short distance of the university. He currently is working on his master's degree in physical education and teaches a course in athletic training.

He is a prospective father with his wife, the former Diane Euker, expecting early in October. Kenny also is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, a member of that body's national ethics committee and editor and publisher of the District UUU trainers' newsletter.

QUARTERBACK ALAN PASTRANA

THE GENERAL OUTLOOK

It would take a real prophet, gazing at a crystal ball 24 hours a day, to qualify to answer the question: How will Maryland fare on the gridiron in 1967? Many imponderables were apparent as this guide went to press, early in August, and the answers couldn't begin to come until the football season, for most teams, is well under way. Many of the country's elevens will have played two games by the time the Terps line up against Oklahoma on September 30.

Question No. 1 — Will Alan Pastrana, the No. 1 quarterback who set Atlantic Coast Conference and Maryland passing records with 17 touchdown passes and 1,499 yards, have fully recovered from his knee operation in April and be the same brilliant tosser he was as a junior in 1966?

Question No. 2 — How will the seniors on the squad react toward their third set of coaches in as many years?

Question No. 3 — Will head coach Bob Ward, dedicated as he is to his alma mater and flanked by two other ex-Terps on his staff, be able to infuse the spirit he and they had during their playing days into their successors of 1967?

It's a rough start which has been handed Ward as he inaugurates his head coaching career: Oklahoma on the Sooners' homefield as an opener and Syracuse, perennial Eastern power, his opposition as he makes his debut before College Park fans a week later. Maryland never has beaten Oklahoma in three attempts and Syracuse has taken the last two games from the Terps with touchdowns to spare.

We know this much about Ward: he's been under some of the best coaching brains in college football; known discipline — and physical condition — as demanded by one of the nation's best schools, West Point, and is determined to have his players in shape to face the toughest.

A glance at the depth chart reveals seven lettermen on the top offensive unit and six on the No. 1 defensive team. Two of the starting backfield, at spring's end, were sophomores, as are the centers on the two top offensive units.

Billy Van Heusen, a senior split end who tied a Maryland record by catching seven touchdown passes last season and led the team with 25 receptions for 536 yards, seems set for a good year. He also will do most of the punting, having averaged an even 40 yards with 46 kicks last year. Billy Lovett, who was the top ground-gainer last year as a soph with a 4.6 average, is the other vet in the backfield with Pastrana. The sophs are Kenny Dutton, a negro speedster from Baltimore and Jimmy Lawrence, a compactly-built 175-pounder from Chesapeake, Va.

Defensively, the first unit has several standouts. Billy Bach and Tom Plevin, 208 and 205, respectively are the best tackles with Mike Grace, Lou Bracken and Pat Baker completing the front line.

Jim Lavrusky and Lou Stickel, both seniors, are outstanding in the secondary. In addition to being hard, sure tacklers, each intercepted three passes last year with average runbacks of 16 and 19 yards. They're as good as any defensive backs in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

College Park fans aren't expecting Ward to do it all in a year. And they know that his first recruits won't be on display until 1968. But they'd love to see him turn in a winner, or even a break-even team. With a little luck, he could.

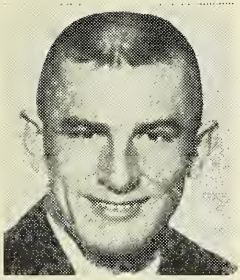
INTERPRETING THE TERPS

Offensive Squad

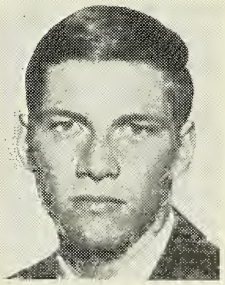
The Ends

Overall: Two lettermen, both punters, on first unit. Two promising sophs on second. Lettermen lost (1) Chip Myrtle.

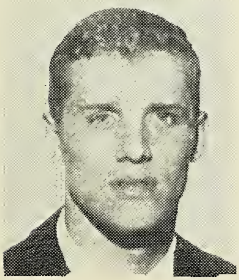
NO. 45 — BILLY VAN HEUSEN, 20, Senior, 6-0, 198, Mamaroneck, N.Y. — This fine-looking senior came into his own last year after an unhappy sophomore year when he was used as a quarterback . . . led team in scoring (7 TDs), pass-receiving (25 for 536 yards) and punting (40.0-yard average) . . . his seven touchdown catches tied school and ACC records . . . his size, speed and experience make him one of most valuable men on offensive squad . . . majors in personnel management in the College of Business and Public Administration . . . the flanker end.



NO. 83 — RICK CARLSON, 19, Junior, 6-3, 194, Willingboro, N.J. — A Gary Collins-type who caught seven passes for 138 yards and two touchdowns as a sophomore . . . was the team's No. 1 punter the first few games of last season and averaged 38.5 on 16 kicks . . . the tight end . . . majors in secondary education, specializing in English.



NO. 82 — HENRY "Hank" GAREIS (GERis), 19, Soph, 6-2, 189, Baltimore, Md. — Was on the fourth all-America scholastic team when he played for Baltimore City College in 1965 . . . showed enough in spring drills to wind up as Van Heusen's back-up man on the season's final depth chart . . . an Arts & Science student.



NO. 86 — BILL KIRSCHENSTEINER, 6-3, 209, Willowick, Ohio — An all-state, all-conference MVP selection for East Lake North High during senior year . . . gave junior Rick Carlson a real battle for first-string job during spring . . . a BPA major.

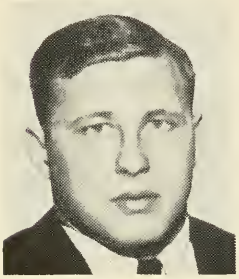
Other offensive ends:

NO. 81 — ROBERT "Mike" IMPHONG, 18, Soph, 6-3, 188, Hancock, Md. Tight end. Education major.

NO. 87 — JIM BRANNON, 18, Soph, 6-4, 198, Cumberland, Md. Tight end. BPA major.

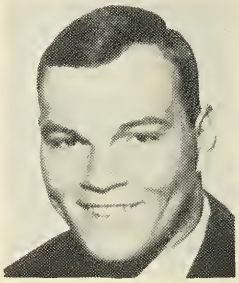
The Tackles

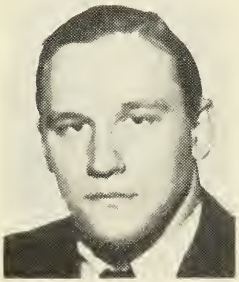
Overall: Two senior lettermen, one soph, one junior on first two units. Lettermen lost (2) — Tom Cichowski, Bob York.



NO. 77 — TOM MYSLINSKI (Miss-lin-ski), 21, Senior, 6-2, 230, Rome, N.Y. — Converted from defensive end to strong-side tackle . . . one of Maryland's most consistent performers . . . big, tough and rough . . highly-regarded by teammates because of inspirational qualities . . . will be playing his third position in as many years, having played offensive guard as sophomore . . . a physical education major.

NO. 72 — GLENN KUBANY (Koo-BANE-ie), 18, Soph, 6-4, 211, Natrona Heights, Pa. — His hard work during spring earned him starting role as weak-side tackle , . . as a discus thrower in Har-Brack High School finished first in Indiana's invitational meet in spring of 1966 . . . an engineering student . . . with a little experience, could really help.





NO. 79 — FRED GAWLICK, 20, Senior, 6-3, 222, Irvington, N.J. — Has been converted completely from a former fullback and linebacker into strong-side offensive tackle and, like Myslinski, undoubtedly will earn his third letter this fall . . . A BPA-General business major.

NO. 74 — BRUCE OLECKI, 19, Soph, 6-3, 234, Lakewood, Ohio — Just promoted from green squad at spring's end . . . with a bit of experience, should develop into a good one . . . must work to improve his blocking . . . A BPA student.

Other offensive tackles:

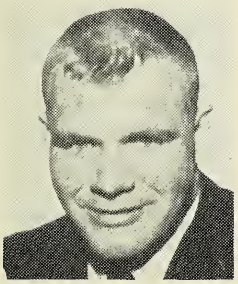
NO. 86 — GARY BECKWARD, 19, Soph, 6-2, 207, Cumberland, Md.

JOHN SABOL, 19, Soph, 6-3, 225, Monessen, Pa.

The Guards

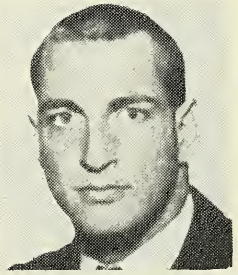
Overall: Three lettermen, one outstanding soph. Lettermen lost — 1.

NO. 60 — RON PEARSON, 21, Junior, 6-3, 211, Rockville, Md. — Developed fast last year and wound up as a good linebacker . . . transferred to offensive guard to capitalize on ability and size . . . agile and quick for big man . . . studying civil engineering . . . pulls well and is a good blocker.



NO. 63 — CHARLES "Chuck" TINE, 21, Senior, 6-2, 215, Bel Air, Md. — Has played center, guard and tackle, all well . . . one of the mainstays of the offensive line last year . . . should earn his third letter and play on the first unit from the start . . . a Phys Ed major.

NO. 62 — ED KANE, 19, Junior, 6-2, 203, Levittown, N.Y. — An all-America scholastic tackle who lettered as an offensive guard last year as a soph . . . was playing first string at season's end . . . A Phys Ed major.

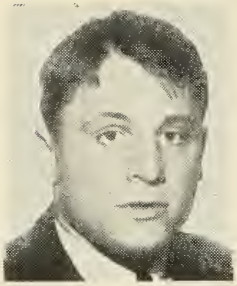


NO. 67 — TOM NEWBY, 20, Soph, 6-3, 215, New Kensington, Pa. — Gave a senior a terrific battle for starting strong guard berth all spring and will see lots of action . . . wrestled in high school and also was on track squad . . . enrolled in the arts and sciences.

Other offensive guards:
NO. 76 — RALPH FRIEDGEN, 19, Junior, 6-0, 196, Harrison, N.Y.
NO. 42 — TOM SINIBALDI, 20, Junior, 5-11, 215, Bound Brook, N.Y.

The Centers

Overall: Sophomores captured spot on first and second units.



NO. 54 — MIKE STUBLJAR, 18, Soph, 6-0, 190, Steelton, Pa. — An all-state, all-conference selection his senior year at Steelton-High-spire and played in the Big 33 game . . . one of four sophs to make the first offensive unit . . . coaches pleased with him from the start . . . started as psychology major, switched to BPA and journalism.

NO. 50 — JIM STULL, 18, Soph, 6-3, 230, Mechanicsburg, Pa. — Another who played in the Big 33 game after making all-conference at Mechanicsburg High . . . With Stubljar, should give Terps plenty of outstanding play in middle of line for next few years . . . majoring in science education.

Other centers:
NO. 46 — GEORGE CHRISTIAN, 19, Soph, 6-0, 205, South Bend, Ind.
NO. 59 — JERRY MARKS, 19, Soph, 6-0, 195, Washington, D.C.

The Quarterbacks

Overall: A Great Big "IF". If Alan Pastrana fully recovers from the operation on his knee last April and is able to play like he did last year, no worries. If he can't, there could be trouble with inexperienced signal-callers. Lettermen lost — 0.

NO. 12 — ALAN PASTRANA, 22, Senior, 6-1, 184, Annapolis, Md. — Had Pastrana not been injured in a scrimmage on the eve of the day he was to have played on Maryland's lacrosse team against Navy, the all-America propaganda would have been streaming forth from this office for months . . . here is an all-America boy if there ever was one: clean-cut, good-looking, personable and a good student . . . as a junior, playing quarterback for the first time in college, he broke three all-time school passing records and established a new high for Atlantic Coast Conference touchdown passes, 17. The 1,499 yards his passes gained were 175 more than the Maryland record and his 50-yard, non-scoring pass in the second game of the season was also a distance record for a Maryland non-scoring pass . . . his greatest game was at North Carolina State when, with his team trailing, 24-0, he connected on three touchdown passes of 41, 36 and 56 yards within the space of a minute and 54 seconds!... probably the greatest individual game a Maryland passer ever had... Pastrana already is an all-America—in lacrosse—having been named to the mythical team as a sophomore in 1966. It was only fitting that he was awarded The Maryland Ring at the end of the year, presented to the Maryland boy adjudged the best athlete of the year.

NO. 1 — JOE "Paunch" TOMCHO, 18, Soph, 6-0, 180, Allentown, Pa. — A youngster with a great high school reputation who got hurt during the summer of 1966 and never even donned a uniform his freshman year . . . he did very little during spring practice this year, yet Coach Bob Ward named him the No. 2 quarterback on his final depth chart of the spring . . . Tomcho was all-conference and Big 33 player for William Allen High . . . if Pastrana doesn't return to par, this lad might step in and do a job . . . a BPA student.

NO. 3 — CHARLES "Chuck" DRIMAL, 19, Soph, 6-1, 185, Valley Stream, N.Y. — A left-handed passer who completed 12 of 31 for last year frosh for 266 yards, including a touchdown . . . the most valuable player of Nassau (N.Y.) County during his senior year in high school when he made the all-Long Island team . . . a pre-legal student.

Other Quarters:

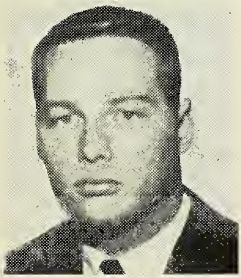
NO. 2 — BOB FARIES, 19, Junior, 6-1, 187, Glenolden, Pa.

NO. 5 — JIM FLAHERTY, 18, Soph, 6-3, 182, Washington, D.C.

NO. 4 — JIM SNISCAK, 18, Soph, 6-2, 198, Middleton, Pa.

The Flanker Backs

Overall: All Sophomores in this position.



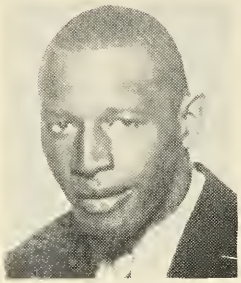
NO. 85 — JAMES "Jimmy" LAWRENCE, 19, Soph, 6-0, 185, Chesapeake, Va. — On the all-America, all-Tidewater, all-city teams as a senior with Deep Creek High . . . should provide speed in the backfield . . . also the outstanding baseball player in the Portsmouth-Chesapeake League during summer of '66 . . . majors in education.

NO. 88 — BILL GILLESPIE, 19, Soph, 5-10, Maple Heights, Ohio — Most valuable player of his Maple Heights High School team and its conference and was an all-conference selection . . . also an all-conference track selection, running the 100 and 220 . . . an arts and science major.

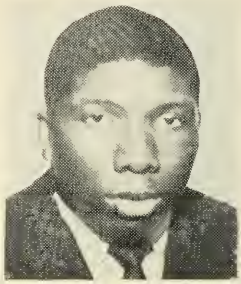
NO. 16 — JOE PANCZA, 20, Soph, 5-10, 171, Highland Park, N.J.

The Tailbacks

Overall: one letterman, two outstanding sophs.



NO. 31 — KENNY DUTTON, 18, Soph, 5-10, 174, Baltimore, Md. — Extremely fast . . . won tailback spot on No. 1 unit during spring drills . . . last year led frosh in kick-off returns averaging nearly 31 yards a return (returned one for 100-yd. TD) . . . was all-America, all-state with Baltimore City College in 1965 . . . a Phys Ed. major.



NO. 22 ERNIE TORAIN, 21, Senior, 5-10, 205, Baltimore, Md. — Has been Maryland's No. 1-2 ground-gainer the past two years (370 yds. as soph, 259 as junior) . . . probably more powerful than Dutton, but not as fast . . . could alternate with him throughout the year . . . scored five touchdowns last year (second to Van Heusen) and was on receiving end of nine passes for 126 yards . . . also averaged 21 yards on five kickoff returns . . . majors in marketing in BPA College.

NO. 35 — PAUL "Fitz" FITZPATRICK, 19, Soph, 6-2, 190, Buffalo, N.Y. — The freshmen's leading ground-gainer last year (241 yards, 4-yard average) . . . gained 127 yards in game against Naval Prep of Bainbridge . . . an all-Catholic, all-Western New York selection and most valuable player of his high school team . . . faced tough competition for tailback during spring with Dutton and Torain playing ahead of him . . . BPA major.

Other tailbacks:

NO. 26 — BERNARD DEMCZUK, 19, Soph, 6-0 170, Baltimore, Md.

NO. 23 — ROGER PERNA, 18, Soph, 5-9, 183, Silver Spring, Md.

The Fullbacks

Overall: Two lettermen returning. One senior, one junior.

NO. 20 — BILLY LOVETT, 20, Junior, 5-11, 198, Cherry Hill, N.J. — Was outstanding as a soph and led team in rushing with 451 yards (4.6 average) . . . his best game was against West Virginia during which he gained 141 yards on 27 carries . . . although small, is plenty tough and can take it as well as dish it out . . . also a fine blocker and pass-receiver . . . caught nine for 59 yards last year . . . majoring in management in the BPA College.

NO. 44 — RALPH DONOFRIO (don-AH-free-o), 20, Senior, 6-0, 189, Wilmington, Del. — Converted from a defensive back last year and wound up as the team's third leading ground-gainer (119 yards in 48 rushes) and its second best pass-receiver (22 for 217 yards, two for TDs) . . . Got a kick out of playing offense after spending his sophomore season as a defensive corner back . . . majors in marketing in BPA College.

Other fullbacks:
NO. 43 — JOE LEBEDZ, 19, Soph, 5-10, 203, Manville, N.J.
NO. 30 — BOB LORD, 20, Soph, 6-0, 178, Marlboro, Mass.

Defensive Squad

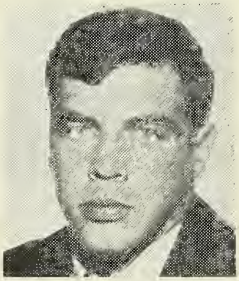
Maryland will use 4-4-3 Defense

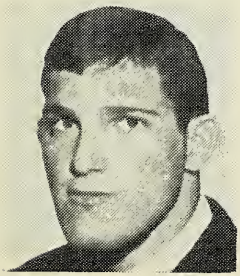
The Ends

Overall: One letterman, one senior, one junior, one soph.

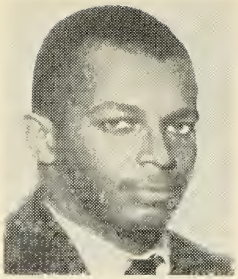
NO. 89 — LOU BRACKEN, 19, Junior, 6-2, 191, Altoona, Pa. — An offensive lineman last year who was shifted to defense this spring . . . showed lots of aggressiveness, is quick and agile and reckoned one of the mainstays of this fall's defensive line . . . majors in accounting.

NO. 53 — PAT BAKER, 21, Senior, 5--1, 182, Altoona, Pa. — Earned letters his first two years, a real hustler and hits hard for his size . . . a PE major.





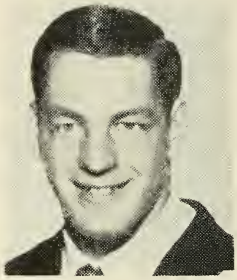
NO. 75 — RALPH SONNTAG, 18, Soph, 6-3, 230, Hicksville, L.I., N.Y. — Has good speed and agility for his size . . . should have tremendous collegiate career after he gets experience . . . the first backup man for Bracken and should see lots of action . . . a PE major.



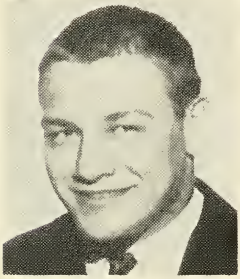
NO. 33 — ALVIN "Skip" LEE, 20, Senior, 6-0, 194, Baltimore, Md. — Converted from an offensive back into a position where he can capitalize on his speed and agility . . . carried the ball 17 times last year for 55 yards but figures to see more action in this spot . . . a math major.

The Tackles

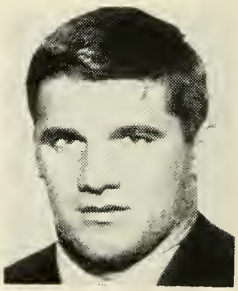
Overall: Three lettermen, one big soph.



NO. 71 — BILLY BACH, 20, Junior, 6-5, 208, Larchmont, N.Y. — Streamlined by some 25 pounds from last year when he was impressive as a defensive end . . . a real student of the game who is constantly trying to improve . . . a BPA major.



NO. 70 — TOM PLEVIN, 19, Junior, 6-2, 203, Uniontown, Pa. — Earned letter as defensive end as sophomore and will be playing corresponding position as corner man of the new four-man line . . . majoring in general business in the BPA college.



NO. 64—ED GUNDERMAN, 20, Senior, 5-11, 184, Midway, Pa. — The third of three brothers to play for Maryland and came strong at the end of spring drills to win berth on No. 2 defensive unit . . . a BPA major.

NO 65 — JOHN MILOSZEWSKI, (Millo-Shew-ski) 19, Junior, 6-4, 217, Beaver Falls, Pa. — Ran neck-and-neck with Plevin during spring drills and probably will alternate with him throughout season . . . one of the all Big 33 performers on the squad . . . the potential is there for him to be great . . . an arts and science major.

Other defensive tackles:

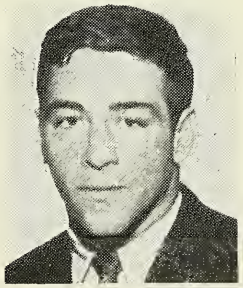
BLASE (Gene) STEC, 19, Soph, 6-0, 221, Delanco, N.J.

NO. 69 — CHARLES BOWMAN, 20, Soph, 6-2, 200, Williamsburg, Ohio.

The Guards

Overall: One letterman, one soph.

NO. 66 — MIKE GRACE, 19, Junior, 5-11, 215, Laurel, Md. — Became a starter midway last season and remained a first unit man . . . shifted from offense to defense and could be Maryland's best defensive lineman . . . lots of heart . . . an arts and science major.



NO. 68 — JOHN GEBHARDT, 19, Soph, 5-11, 216, Williamsville, N.Y.—Converted from an offensive back (had been No. 3 ground-gainer for last fall's frosh) to this spot during spring . . . an all-league selection during junior and senior years in high school . . . a sectional wrestling champion in 183-pound division . . . an arts and science major.

Other defensive guards:

NO. 61 — BRUCE ANTHONY, 19, Soph, 5-11, 218, Hyattsville, Md.

NO. 72 — JOE DIORIO, 19, Soph, 6-0, 189, Newark, N.J.

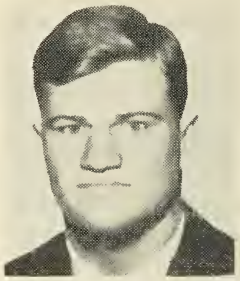
NO. 84 — JIM HENNESSY, 18, Soph, 6-3, 205, Rockville, N.Y.

NO. 69 — CHARLES BOWMAN, 20, Soph, 6-2, 200, Williamsburg, Ohio.

The Linebackers

Overall: Two lettermen. Both all-conference possibilities.

NO. 55 — JIM LAVRUSKY, 20, Senior, 6-0, 209, Monaca, Pa. — One of the real rocks of Maryland's defense . . . a consistently fine player who hasn't received the attention merited . . . a leader on defense and a fine play diagnostician . . . intercepted three passes last year . . . a definite all-Conference nominee . . . majors in education.



NO. 41 — LOU STICKEL, 20, Senior, 6-1, 194, Delanco, N.J. — Another of the better defensive men on the squad . . . like Lavrusky, intercepted three passes during 1966, otherwise made himself obnoxious to the opposition . . . a vicious and sure tackler . . . a PE major.

NO. 58 — DAN KECMAN, 18, 6-1, 200, West Mifflin, Pa. — One of two sophs to make the first defensive unit during spring drills . . . was all-Western Pennsylvania choice with West Mifflin High . . . a business administration major.

NO. 52 — BOB MacBRIDE, 18, Soph, 6-2, 204, Aaklyn, N.Y. — Gave Kecman a real battle during spring and should see lots of action . . . was MVP for Collingswood High in '65 and was all-state, all-south Jersey, all-suburban, all-county, all-group III selection . . . a BPA major.

NO. 56 — DONALD "Swanny" SWAN, 19, Soph, 6-1, 193, Ocean City, N.J. — Finished spring drills as the back-up man for Lavrusky . . . all-county for two years with Ocean City High and then an all-prep, all-state selection linebacker and halfback for Bordentown Military Institute . . . a BPA major.

NO. 40 — BILL GRANT, 19, Soph, 6-2, 181, Brooklawn, N.J. — On New Jersey's second all-state and all-conference team in Group II during senior year at Gloucester City High — showed enough in spring to grab the No. 2 defensive wing position behind Stickel . . . A BPA major.

Other Linebacker

NO. 57 — ART BRZOSTOWSKI (Bra-TOW-ski), 21, Senior, 6-0, 210, Bayonne, N.J. — Starter last year.

The Halfbacks

Overall: One letterman, one senior, one promising soph.

NO. 24—BOB HALEY, 20, Senior, 5-10, 174, Midway, Pa.—Hasn't lettered yet, but got a real good chance this spring and wound up as the left half of the No. 1 unit . . . coaches liked his spirit and never-give-up attitude . . . small, but fast . . a PE major.

NO. 21—CARL MORTENSEN, 21, Senior, 6-0, 190, Lodi, N.J. — Earned his first letter last year at this position and provides ample protection there this year . . . could break into the first unit any time . . . a PE major.

NO. 10—WALLY STALNAKER, 18, Soph, 6-1, 185, Ft. Myers, Fla.—Was playing almost on even terms with the best defensive backs during spring and has lots of promise . . . was captain of the Ft. Myers High team as senior and made Florida's all-west coast eleven . . . was honorable mention on the all-America scholastic . . . a pre-legal student in BPA College.

Other defensive backs:
NO. 11—STEVE CIAMBOR, 18, Soph, 5-10, 172, Cheektowaga, N.Y.

The Safeties

Overall: One letterman, one outstanding soph.

NO. 25—MIKE BRANT, 19, Soph, 5-10, 180, Avondale, Md.—Beat out a senior for the No. 1 job during spring after being red-shirted last year . . . could become a fine defensive back . . . studies electrical engineering.

NO. 15—TONY SANTY, 22, Senior, 6-3, 197, Plainfield, N.J.—Has height and speed for this important post . . . aggressive, versatile . . . has earned letters as a soph and junior . . . will see much action.
